On April 23, 2021 TikTok enabled users to use their videos to create augmented reality experiences using a collection of AR lenses that were enabled by attaching special stickers onto their videos (via ARKit). The third photo (right edge) shows a flex cable connector for the USB interface. As you can see, the screen is fairly large, measuring 98mm diagonally and with a resolution of 800 x 480 pixels.",

In March 2021, it was reported that a Chinese man named Li traveled to Hong Kong in order to euthanize his mother. He used the TikTok app's "Selfie Scoring" feature to rate her on how well she resembled a photo of a female model. The article goes on to say that the average age of death for those who took their own lives with this method was 18 years old, and that "the suicide 'score' accounts for the fact that they are unlikely to live out their lives with a score less than zero.",

In March 2021, it was announced that ongoing privacy concerns were being raised against the app. According to "Buzzfeed News", posts from users are supposed to be moderated by their followers and friends which would prevent any spam or negative content from reaching other followers and friends. However, some of the posts that reach the top of a user's feed come straight from the app itself",

TikTok has been criticized for the amount of time it takes for users to upload videos and therefore can affect their ability to generate revenue from them. These issues have been compounded by the company's lack of oversight and a lack of in-app review or moderation tools available for its users. As of May 2021, the app has been criticized for the amount of inappropriate and illegal content shared on its platform and the ease with which users can access this content. TikTok is not monitored by human moderators as Youtube is but relies entirely on machine learning technology to find inappropriate content that violates its terms of service. It has been reported that this method provides overbroad or inappropriate results, as well as false positives.",
